CHICAGO COUNCIL CALENDAR

MARCH 2009

TUESDAY, MARCH 3, 2009

FIXING THE GLOBAL ECONOMY

In part two of the series on the global economy, Financial Times associate editor and chief economics commentator Martin Wolf explains why global imbalances cause financial crises like the one ravaging the world now, and outlines the steps needed to end this destructive cycle. Wolf has been described as “the world’s pre-eminent financial journalist” and named in Foreign Policy and Prospect magazines’ “Top 100 Public Intellectuals” list. His latest book, Fixing Global Finance, will be available for purchase and signing.

THURSDAY, MARCH 5, 2009

THE PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE OF MIDDLE EAST PEACE

Veteran Middle East expert Ambassador Martin Indyk will draw on his long personal involvement at the highest levels of diplomacy to assess the prospects for Middle East peace. His latest book, Innocent Abroad: An Intimate Account of American Peace Diplomacy in the Middle East, will be available for purchase and signing.

MONDAY, MARCH 16, 2009

GETTING CHINA AND INDIA RIGHT

To “get it right” in China and India, companies must develop long-term strategies and see both countries as engines for global growth, rather than just vehicles for cost savings. Anil K. Gupta, Ralph J. Tyser Professor of Strategy and Organization at the University of Maryland, interviewed managers in more than 100 companies about best strategies for operating in the two countries, including labor market branding, building technology and innovation hubs, and tapping multisegment “mega-markets.”

MONDAY, MARCH 23, 2009

MANAGING POLITICAL RISK IN THE GLOBAL MARKETPLACE

Civil war, political instability, acts of terror, seizures of private companies, and a serious global economic downturn: the world is a dangerous place for investors and corporations. Ian Bremmer, president of the Eurasia Group, contends that to be competitive in the global marketplace, companies must identify how political risks and security threats will affect the cost of doing business.

TUESDAY, MARCH 31, 2009

REASON, RELIGION, AND PEACE IN A GLOBAL SOCIETY

Archbishop of Chicago Francis Cardinal George explains that only by permitting reason and religion to play healthy roles within public life is it possible to preserve the sources of morality and human dignity and create a healthy and stable global order. This program is part of the Chicago and the World Forum series, “Fault Lines of Faith? Religion and Politics in World Affairs.”

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1, 2009

THE OUTLOOK FOR EMERGING MARKETS: FROM BRICs TO THE N-11

The strength of the BRIC (Brazil, Russia, India, and China) economies, collectively and individually, is uncertain in the face of the financial crisis and a weakened U.S. economy— their first large external shock this decade. Jim O’Neill, head of global economic research at Goldman Sachs and creator of the “BRICs” acronym, addresses the economic future of the BRICs and what role the emerging “Next Eleven” (N-11) economies might have in the global economic system.
