

THE CHICAGO COUNCIL ON GLOBAL AFFAIRS

Sustaining the U.S. Commitment to Food Security: Perspectives from the Field on Progress and Challenges

Thursday, May 5, 2011 | 9:00 AM – 10:00 AM

B369 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, D.C.

On Thursday, May 5, The Chicago Council on Global Affairs' Global Agricultural Development Initiative will host a breakfast briefing on the importance of sustaining America's commitment to food security featuring Catherine Bertini, former executive director of the UN World Food Program and Dan Glickman, former U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

Ms. Catherine Bertini and Mr. Dan Glickman, cochairs of The Chicago Council's Global Agricultural Development Initiative, recently traveled to Tanzania and Mozambique to assess food security projects funded by U.S. Agency for International Development, U.N. World Food Program, and the Alliance for a Green Revolution in Africa. Given the recent spike in food prices, and the difficult fiscal environment, the cochairs will share fresh insights into how U.S. tax dollars are being spent in food security projects in Tanzania and Mozambique and the Feed the Future's progress to date.

Speakers:

Catherine Bertini, former executive director, UN World Food Program
Dan Glickman, former secretary, U.S. Department of Agriculture

To Register:

This briefing is open to the public and media. Please RSVP to Sung Lee at 312.821.7553 or email slee@thechicagocouncil.org.
